

Don Swaim

The Swimsuit Issue

WARNING!

adults only

This lovely red bikini, shown off by carrot-juice guzzling supermodel Carcinogen Crumb, displays the curvaceous female form to its fullest advantage.

Stunning geometric shapes are perfect for displaying shapely legs.

Bathing boots. Just right for beach, mountains, desert, or infantry.

One can have loads of fun with this flesh-like model. Inflatable and includes detachable bathing suit.

Model Giacomo “Johnny Sausage” Bonanno, 1875 S. Alameda Avenue, Apt. 3-G, Denver, Colorado, 80201, wears mustache as disguise because he’s in the federal witness protection program.

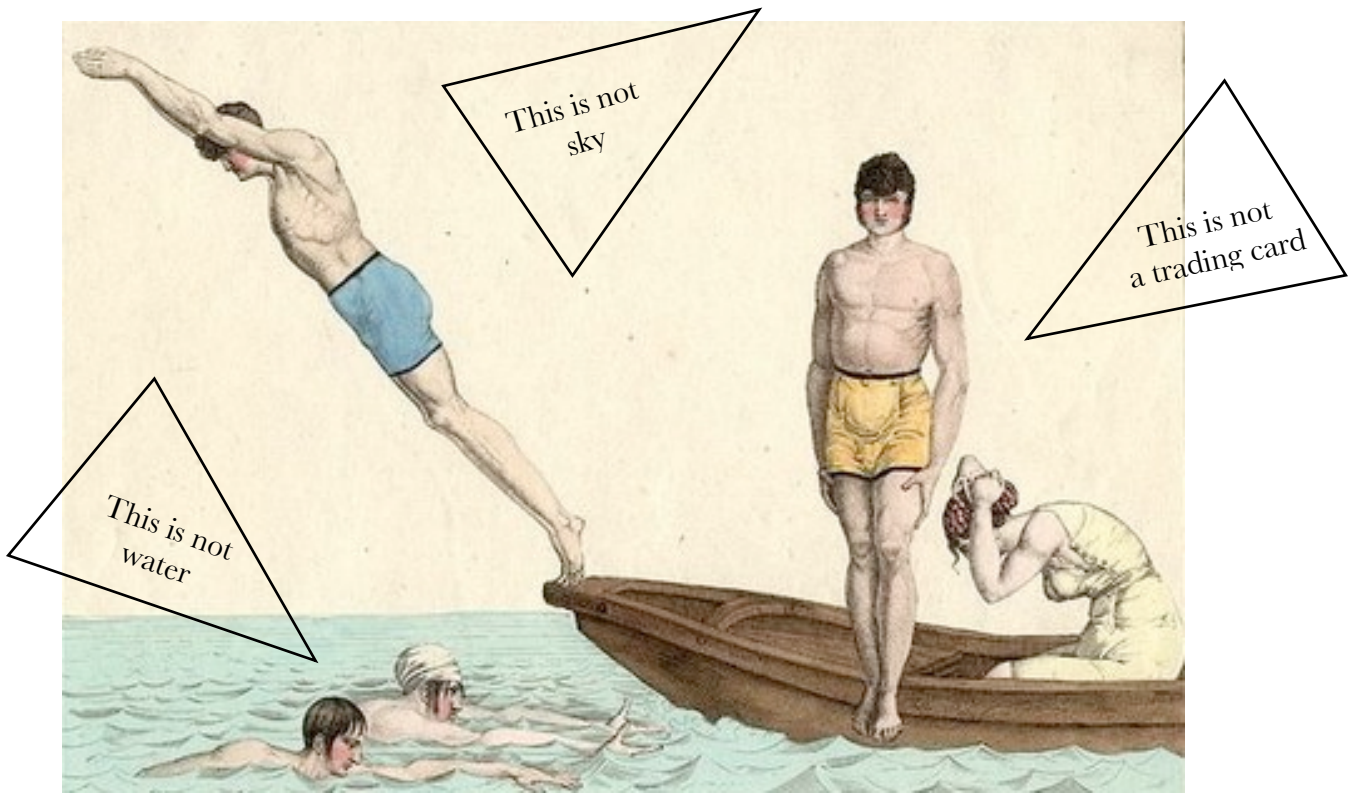

Police lineup photo. This incestuous threesome was busted for lewd pranks on the dunes by corrupt undercover immigration agents in W. Steubenville, Ohio, in 1971.

Sylvester Burl Beasley, seated, is famed for championship breaststroke swimming wearing full uniform, shoes, spare change, and handcuffs.

How’d you like to get into these pants?

Rare Topps Bubble Gum trading card. Sold at Sotheby Park Benet auction at $950,000.

Daphne Lakisha Espinoza, point guard for the Chicago Bulls, poses seductively on the restricted beach at Long Branch, New Jersey.

In this exclusive suit collection, a delicious red Honeycrisp apple is included with each bathing suit. Apple can be eaten or worn under bra.

Spunky boy models were introduced by their Sunday School teacher, Edgar Ronny Nicholson, now incarcerated. Taller boy in paisley is actually the youngest.

Before she became Empress of Japan, Gensho Sakuramachi modeled swimwear in Prague.

When not posing as a sultry supermodel, Effie Rosanne Gutierrez is mayor of Minneapolis. Note: on her forehead a stick-on star given to her by her first grade teacher for relatively good attendance.

This stunning number is patterned after the very one Al Capone wore at Alcatraz.

These versatile ensembles are suitable for play, sex, or business wear. Includes hat and cane. Currently available only in yellow (not shown).

Designed to be worn top or bottom, this sturdy frock is the chamois of choice among bums who wash perfectly clean car windows at stop lights under overpasses.

A marvel of technology, this amazing swimsuit has no back or rear and is held in place by four phillips-head screws.

Brother and sister Odis and Adela Carney pose in their interchangeable swimming suits. Odis is on right. No, left. No, right.

Official organic farming swim team.

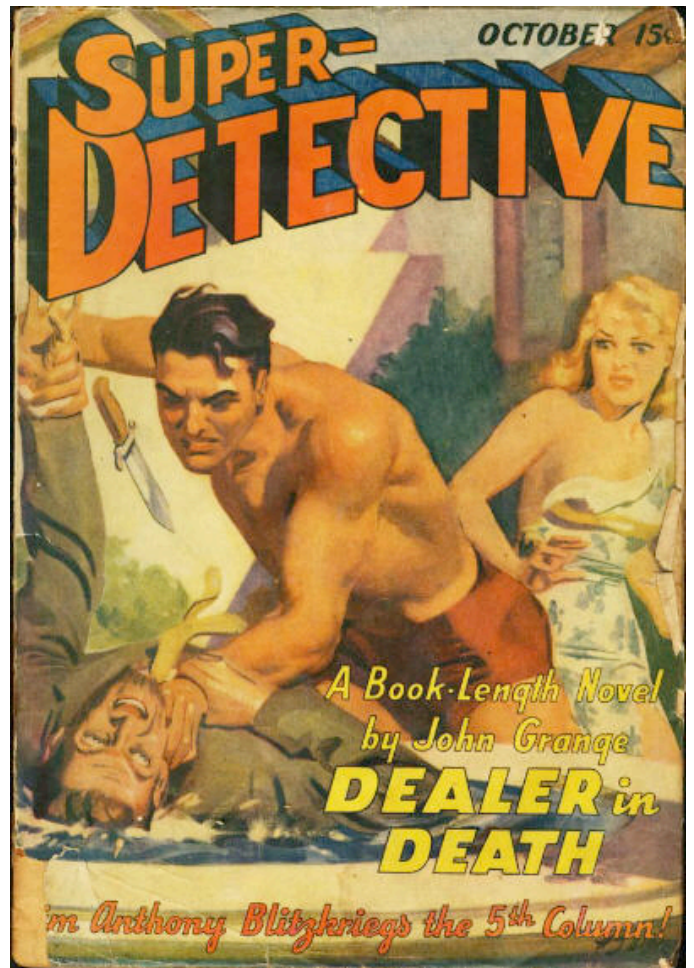

Discovered in a prehistoric cave in France, these trunks are displayed at the Starbucks in Dayton, Ohio. Replicas available for $9.98 (large only).

These annoying trunks are designed primarily for self-administered eye and diabetes exams.

The green garden hose (below) is just one of the matching swimsuit accessories displayed by luscious Ukrainian model Hortense Byrd.

These red trunks, as worn by the hunk on the cover, magically turn wimps into a super-heros. Note: a free blonde is included with each pair. Order now!

These girls discovered too late there were no bathroom facilities at this beach on Lake Erie. Fortunately, it was high tide.

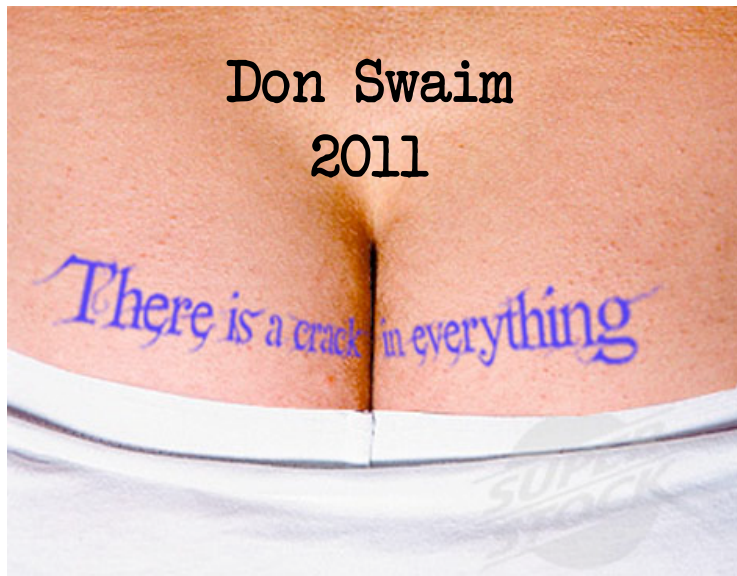

A popular evangelical beach game among the various sexes ushered in a new era of religious promiscuity in Europe in 2006, and is now a respected Vatican Encyclical.

Members of the same Mississippi family, wearing the latest swim fashions, relax on a quiet, secluded beach in Nova Scotia. Note: Arrow clearly shows the current Governor of Mississippi posing nude.

Gay couple in swim garb at their wedding in Utah. Note: Unidentified man on right is seeking Republican Presidential nomination.

Additional copies available for $59.95 each