At the sanguinary engagement between the ailed forces at the mouth of Pelbu river and the Chinese troops, eleven British officers were killed and seventeen wousded; among the latter is the Admiral of the fleet, who was in one of the boats directing the debarkation and landing of the English INSOME. The plan of the English was to land at

The British were obliged to abandon the attack and retire with the loss of about 500 men.

The English officers state that Russian feat-The hogusa omoerastate that sussian waters were distinctly visible among the men in the forts, who maneuvered the Chinese batterrea, and it is believed that Russian sagineers direct their efforts.

The American men of war took no direct part in the action, sithough an American stamming of war towed up several of the British gunboats to secure their notion, and afterwards took off a number of men from the disabled and sunken boats to their respective ships.

Notwithstanding these fair promises, a terrible responsibility rests upon those Committees which should make them shuder when they reflect upon it. They have publicly whipped nearly seventy clitzens of their parishes, in the beal of such a passion as it exhibited only by a wild and interists and the condition of the process of the process of the properties of the fine parishes, in the beal of such a passion as it exhibited only by a wild and interisted mob, without judge or jury, and have ordered them to leave the State in five days, or suffer the pensity of death by the hands of the same company. And we are credibly informed that a heavy vote of the committee, back, on the lith instant, en board the steamboat Charmer, a abort distance below Hatcher, was examined yesterday before Racorder Summer on a charge of murder. The evidence was the same as that inken before the Ceroper, and showed that Holas had been the agreemen, and stabbed Bagan in the hip first. The Recorder discharged Ragan, deceiling that the stabbing was done in soil defense.

BRUTALITY OF A POLICERAR.—Policeman Melio, of the Becord District, had his commission revoked by Rayor Sitth yesterday, for striking a prisoner with his cith. We suppose Melio played a cith because he had not a heart, and as he could not trump up a good erruse, he had to pass cut.
